

CAVITE STATE UNIVERSITY - CCAT CAMPUS

SAFE AT WORK. SAFE TO LEARN.

OJT STUDENT ORIENTATION GUIDE ON SAFE SPACES

YOUR OJT SITE IS STILL A LEARNING SPACE

Protection applies at the host workplace, during OJT-related travel and events, and in online communication connected to training.

CvSU PROTECTS THE DIGNITY, SAFETY, AND EQUALITY OF EVERY OJT STUDENT.

OJT students are covered by the CvSU Anti-Gender-Based Sexual Harassment IRR, including incidents involving partner entities and third parties.

1 KNOW YOUR PROTECTION

- OJT students are covered as CvSU students, even while assigned to a host company or field site.
- Anyone may commit gender-based sexual harassment, regardless of age, sex, rank, or status.
- The rules cover supervisors, trainers, employees, co-trainees, classmates, clients, contractors, suppliers, and other third parties.
- Peer-to-peer, subordinate-to-superior, and trainer-to-trainee conduct are included.

2 WHERE THE PROTECTION APPLIES

- Host company, office, laboratory, shop, field site, or training facility
- OJT-related travel, meetings, seminars, conferences, and social functions
- University premises and activities involving partner entities
- Texts, email, group chats, video calls, social media, and other online platforms

KEY REMINDER

A grade, evaluation, schedule, stipend, allowance, assignment, recommendation, or other benefit must never depend on accepting unwanted sexual conduct.

3 RECOGNIZE THE RED FLAGS

- Unwanted touching, brushing, pinching, sexual gestures, or malicious staring
- Sexual jokes, comments, questions, invitations, or persistent attention
- Requests for sexual favors linked to grades, evaluation, stipend, assignment, schedule, or benefits
- Sexist, misogynistic, homophobic, or transphobic remarks or slurs
- Repeated unwanted messages, cyberstalking, threats, or sexualized online comments
- Recording, posting, or sharing photos, audio, video, or personal information without consent
- Displaying sexually offensive images, materials, or messages
- Any conduct that creates an intimidating, humiliating, hostile, or offensive training environment

4 IF SOMETHING HAPPENS

- Move to a safe place and seek immediate help when needed.
- Write down the date, time, location, people involved, witnesses, and what happened.
- Save screenshots, messages, emails, recordings, and other available evidence.
- Tell a trusted CvSU contact. You may report even if you are not yet ready to file a formal complaint.
- Do not confront the person if doing so may put you at risk.
- Ask about support, protective measures, and the next steps.

5 WHERE TO REPORT

- College or Campus GAD Coordinator
- Student Council GAD Representative
- Office of Student Affairs and Services
- Your OJT Coordinator for immediate safety and site coordination
- CvSU Safe Spaces Email: safespaces.gadrc@cvsu.edu.ph

6 YOUR RIGHTS DURING THE PROCESS

- Confidentiality to the greatest extent possible
- Gender-sensitive and impartial handling
- Protection from retaliation
- Appropriate support and referral
- Due process for all parties

SIMPLIFIED CvSU RESPONSE PATH

Reporting and formal complaint are not the same. A report can begin safety, referral, and fact-checking steps while options are explained.

1

REPORT / DISCLOSE

Tell a designated CvSU office or send a Safe Spaces email.

2

SAFETY & REFERRAL

Immediate protection, documentation, and support are arranged.

3

CODI REVIEW

The proper complaint and investigation procedure is followed.

4

FINDINGS & ACTION

Recommendations and appropriate sanctions or measures are issued.

5

FOLLOW-UP

Support, monitoring, and protection from retaliation continue.
